(Version 1.0

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination in all its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, religion, age, disability, political beliefs, sexual orientation, and marital or family status. (Not all prohibited bases apply to all programs.) Persons with disabilities who require alternative means for communication of program information (Braille, large print, audiotape, etc.) should contact USDA's TARGET Center at 202-720-2600 (voice and TDD).

To file a complaint of discrimination, write USDA, Director, Office of Civil Rights, Room 326W, Whitten Building, 14th and Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20250-9410 or call (202) 720-5964 (voice or TDD).

Errata Sheet

The PRS guide is in initial draft form. Revisions will be noted as it progresses:

- Initial draft prepared as part of PRS manual (11/14/2003).
- First posted draft (2/6/2004)

General

The Performance Results System (PRS) is related to other applications that collect data on conservation practices. This includes Conservation Journal, POINTS, WebTCAS, Toolkit, and ProTracts. The goal is to use data from all of these sources in a national database to measure the results of the conservation practices.

Related Applications

As part of using PRS, you may also use these related web applications. (Which applications are available to you depend on the role defined for your PRS log-in identity.)

- State and Local Programs—Lets PRS Coordinators to add programs for PRS and WebTCAS reporting.
- Screen Builder—Lets PRS Coordinators create custom screens for gathering reporting data for state and local programs.
- Affiliates—Lets you identify various types of boards and associate people with these boards. This lets PRS track an individual's board affiliations for reporting purposes.

To minimize download times, the NRCS has given these programs their own user manuals or quick-start guides.

Accessing PRS and other IAS applications

Currently, the PRS program is used by NRCS employees and partners to record performance. Technical Service Providers use an alternative application, TechPRS.

There are some requirements for setting your browser (IE6) correctly to run PRS. Do the following:

1. Select Tools on the browser window.
2. Select Internet Options.
3. Click the Security Tab.
4. Choose Custom Level and then Miscellaneous.
5. Find "Access data sources across domains."
6. Set it to Enable.
7. Click OK, and then OK to save settings.

Obtaining an eGov account through eAuth

You must have an e-Government Account to access PRS. If you do not have an account, you can obtain instructions for requesting one at:
http:// www.eauth.egov.usda.gov

PRS State and Local Programs

State and Local Programs lets PRS Coordinators add programs for PRS reporting and WebTCAS reporting. The application starts when you select either the State and Local Programs or State and Local Program Report option from the left side menu of the PRS Tools Menu screen. The following changes occur:

- The top banner changes from PRS to State & Local Programs,
- The top menu bar options change, including the suboptions under Reports and Tools. Depending on the permissions in your profile, options for the Screen Builder application may be included in the top menu. (The Screen Builder application has its own manual.)
- The Programs menu appears on the left side.
- The Edit Programs screen is displayed.

Adding a State or Local Program

1. Select Tools on the PRS menu bar.
2. Select State and Local Programs option on the left side menu of the PRS Tools Screen. This starts the State and Local Programs application and displays the Programs menu on the left side.
3. Select Add Program from the left side menu. This displays the Add Program screen.
